

Privacy Statement

Privacy statement

×

'Grandes villas de France' protects your privacy and pledges to strictly respect the law at all times. 'Grandes villas de France' will only ask for information in order to improve its service to you. 'Grandes villas de France' will never sell or distribute your information to a third party.

In order to book a holiday villa we collect your personal information. We collect this through our online-reservationsystem or by e-mail. This information is crucial for the realisation of the booking-procedure.

Your navigation preferences, your favourite holiday villas, your trail on the 'Grandes villas de France' website. We collect this information for the well-functioning and optimisation of the website. To adapt our offer to your needs, your favourites, to collect statistics,.... And to make them available to you at your next visit.

'Grandes Villas de France' only communicates your personal information to a third party if this is necessary for the proper course of your vacation. For example: we can inform the holiday home owner of your bank account number for reimbursement of the deposit or to get back to you a forgotten or lost object,.....

You can consult and/or modify this personal information at any moment. You can also remove yourself from the 'Grandes villas de France' database completely. U can easily to this by mail at Contact@grandesvillasdefrance.be

On the 'Grandes villas de France' website you might notice a few links to other websites. 'Grandes villas de France' does not accept any responsibility for the contence of these sites, neither fort their privacy-policy.

If you feel 'Grandes villas de France' does not respect your privacy like it should, please contact us at contact@grandesvillasdefrance.be

change cookie settings